Local sourcing, done for you.
We make your menu more profitable.

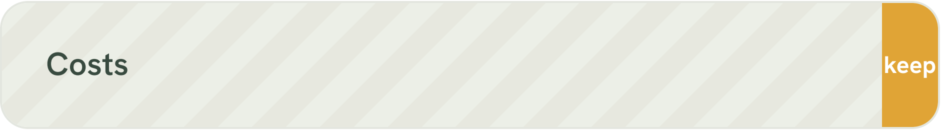
Restaurant supply · Agent-run · Pre-seed

THE SQUEEZE

Cutting costs is a dead end.

- Independent kitchens keep 3 to 5 cents on every dollar. Full-service averages 3 to 5% net.
- Every supplier is already squeezed. There is almost nothing left to trim.
- Local food earns more, but sourcing it means calling farms, chasing trucks, and hoping someone shows up.
- So most operators never do it, and leave the margin on the table.

WHERE EVERY DOLLAR GOES



That sliver is the whole business. The only real lever left is to charge more for what is already on the plate.

THE SOLUTION

We do the sourcing. You take the credit.

- Tell us one ingredient you want local. An agent runs everything else.
- It finds and vets farms, signs the agreement, schedules weekly delivery, and hands you the proof for the menu.
- The restaurant does two things: say what they want and put it on the menu.
- Set up in about 10 minutes. First item runs free.

Everything	Two things

✓ Source · vet · negotiate

✓ Contract · deliver · cover shortfalls

✓ Provenance · margin tracking

THE PRODUCT

One request in. A better plate out.

An autonomous agent runs each ingredient through the same pipeline and shows the work on a live board.

✓ Request

○ On the menu
earning margin

- Every step automated end to end.
- A board shows exactly what the agent did.
- Backup farms cover any shortfall.

THE OPPORTUNITY

A trillion-dollar table.

- US foodservice is a $1.1 trillion market across more than 1 million outlets.
- Our wedge: 34,000+ full-service restaurants where local sourcing actually moves the check.
- 41% of diners already choose restaurants by local sourcing.
- We monetize the service layer, not the food, so revenue compounds per location.

THE MODEL

We make money one way.

No markup on food. No cut of sales. One transparent service fee, so our incentives sit with the kitchen.

YOU FUND

Food at cost

Pay the farm price and nothing more.

YOU PAY US

A service fee

Modular monthly, scales with farms and items. Discounts up to 20% for longer terms.

YOU KEEP

The upside

Every extra dollar of margin stays yours.

- Recurring revenue per location.
- Expands as a kitchen adds items and farms.
- Aligned: we win only if they keep winning.

WHY NOW

The shift is already on the menu.

- 44% of diners are more likely to visit a restaurant that prioritizes local sourcing, and the trend keeps climbing.
- 68 cents of every local dollar stays in the community, versus 43 cents otherwise.
- AI agents finally make true done-for-you service cheap enough to run at scale.
- Independents need an edge against the chains, and local is theirs to own.

THE ASK

Let's set the table.

- Raising a pre-seed round to onboard the first 100 kitchens in one metro.
- Proof points: live agent, real per-account product, first paid pilots.
- Goal: prove repeatable margin lift, then expand metro by metro.
